Labour Group Motion: My Vote, My Voice. Charter, 1

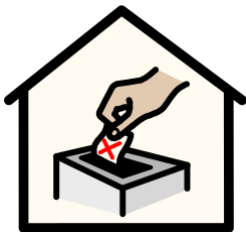

Over 1.5 million adults in the United Kingdom live with a learning disability

About 700,000 adults in the United Kingdom are autistic

40% of people living in the UK don't know that autistic people and learning disabled people have a right to vote

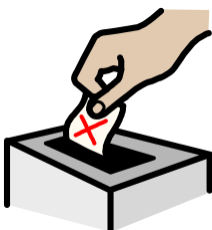

80% of people think polling stations are not accessible to disabled people

Only 12% of disabled voters knew about their legal rights during 2023 local elections

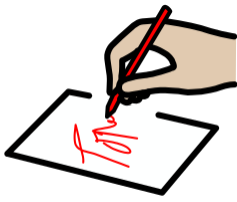

The 2023 local elections had new rules. You now need to bring ID such as a passport or drivers licence with you to vote

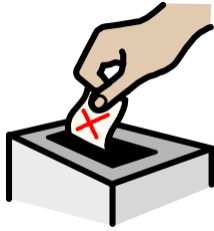

There are going to be lots of important elections in 2024 and every vote should count
